H-1B Registration

U.S. employers or agents who wish to enter H-1B nonimmigrants to the United States on behalf of a specific individual must submit a registration during a designated registration period, unless the registration requirement is suspended by USCIS.

You may submit as many registrations as you would like for one individual to enter the H-1B nonimmigrant category, regardless of the number of employers or agents who sponsor the individual.

The current registration period will last a maximum of 1 calendar day and will start at least 90 days before the employment date on which an H-1B cap subject petition must be filed for a particular fiscal year.

If the number of registrations submitted exceeds the number of H-1B cap subject petitions that will be received and accepted for that fiscal year, a random selection process will be conducted to select petitions for which an H-1B cap subject petition will be accepted.

If a sufficient number of registrations is received, the filing date of the cap-subject petition that is selected will be the date on which the registration was accepted.

If the number of registrations submitted is less than the number of H-1B cap subject petitions that will be received and accepted for that fiscal year, any unselected registrations will be returned to the employer.

Before you start your registration

Eligibility

- A U.S. employer or agent may file H-1B cap petitions, and as such, will be required to submit an H-1B registration for each employee who wishes to enter the H-1B cap subject category.

- U.S. Employers: Please register in U.S. time.

- Engage a person to enter in the U.S.

- Fill all employment-related information with the beneficiaries, and

- Pay all fees.

Agree to a U.S. individual in a company as an employer may file an H-1B registration for nonimmigrants who are traditionally self-employed or workers who are agents of a professional employment group on their behalf with overseas employees, and in cases where a foreign employer authorizes the agent to act on its behalf.

Duplicate

A registrant employer or agent may only submit one registration per beneficiary in any fiscal year. A registrant cannot hold more than one registration per beneficiary in the same fiscal year; all registrations file for that registrant relating to that beneficiary for that fiscal year will be considered invalid.

Fee

Fee: $90 per registration
